

Introduction

Gantrex S.A. is a Belgian company (ISO 9001 certified), part of the Gantry Group, and comprising of a number of key subsidiaries in Europe, North & South America, Middle East and Asia. Gantrex employs approximately 400 people worldwide.

Gantrex is the undisputed world market leader in design, supply and installation of crane rails and rail fastening systems. Gantrex strongly believes in having a local presence in every corner of the world, and has as such invested heavily in its own subsidiaries and the technical know-how of its employees. Being the market leader in the crane rail industry for over 40 years, we are confident to have experience with every rail application allowing us to find a solution for any rail problem.

Being challenged with the ever-growing demands of our customers and the industry in general, Gantrex continuously develops new and improved products such as the latest range of RailLok™ rail clips & pad. Equipped with up-to-date technology, Gantrex collaborates with major universities in numerous countries to support its R&D and product testing.

At Gantrex, our goal is to understand customer needs and offer solutions which are both cost-effective, properly applied and adapted to the requirements of the application. The commitment to this goal is further supported by providing highly-trained sales and field service personnel, most with engineering qualifications, who are able to discuss both products and applications with customers at a highly technical level. Consultancy and installation are a few of the additional services provided by Gantrex.
